Deeper Relationships. Wider Kingdom Influence. It is no secret that Christianity is met with a fair bit of skepticism among younger generations. As our young disciples see conflict, experience moral failure among leaders, and witness Christians who limit their faith to the Sunday morning experience, they walk away asking, “What’s the point?”

Pastor Billy Newell has a passion for empowering every Christian to reach those who are far from Jesus. During this workshop, we will explore the power in deep relationships and personal witness. We will explore the balance between presence and proclamation. While young people are skeptical of the church, they long for community and seek to know God. While they may not come to their church they will come to your dining room table. Through it all, we can be encouraged that Jesus goes ahead of us, comes behind us, and walks beside us!
